

HUMANS - Humor

abortionists: only a few of us had true compassion also.
activists: we are learning how to express ourselves too.
adulterers: at least a few of us kept trying to get it right.
artists: our minds looked like the weird paintings.
athletes: we never learned how to take pain either.
bankers: we finally learned how to balance our accounts.
bondsmen: we finally found someone that trusted us too.
brokers: we never learned to change that quickly.
cashiers: we put in a nickel and took out a dime.
clerks: the customers knew more than we did.
comedians: how come they knew so much about us.
commentators: we used to be experts too.
conductors: we were perfect at controlling everybody too.
consultants: the less we understood, the more we made.
criminals: somebody had to support the legal system.
critics: only a few of us faced our own worst fears.
developers: we always knew the sky was our limit.
dictators: not many could really take the heat as we did.
directors: no wonder it took so many of us.
doctors: we patients kept thinking they would kill us.
draftspeople: it took nearly all of them to publish this.
educators: we finally learned why we were so dumb.
employees: where else to start learning the greed process.
farmers: we never got all of the roots out either.
feminists: since God is a woman, we are equal to men.
fishermen: we had to lay down more than our poles.
fortune teller: a few of us gave our homes to evangelists.
gentlemen: we saved our wives from everyone but us.
hookers: many of us needed pampering too.
homosexuals: we were always raised in good anger.
hunters: we don't need to tell you what we sought.
inmates: we were always seeking security too.
insured: we always felt secure, until after the accident.
jailees: aren't we glad that we had that experience!
jailers: at least somebody wanted to hold on to us.
janitors: all of us made people clean up behind us too.
judges: talk about getting your socks knocked off.
lawyers: the ultimate in hopelessness for us.
legislators: we knew what was best for all of you too.
lesbians: we were just women trying to do a man's job.
lovers: our perfect path to perfect lust.
manufacturers: we too cornered the market on boredom.

mechanics: what do we do with this extra stuff?
ministers: at least a few of us were not historical.
missionaries: we even learned to live back to back.
movie makers: at least a few creative people thought of us.
murderers: we wanted to find somebody to kill our pain.
newsmen: where has everybody else vanished to?
nurses: yes, somebody cared about our well being.
policemen: at least somebody knew we needed help.
politicians: we all learned how to lie and smile too.
preachers: we too could get very hysterical.
presidents: there were a few of us that loved to be hated.
pricks: we finally learned that we had auxiliary brains.
priests: glad to know that there is someone between us.
puppets: we were always jerked around too.
pussies: and we thought we had a tight grip on things.
rabbi: thank God there is One who held on to deep truth.
receptionists: at least one of us had to look respectable.
reporters: we had perfected rudeness and curiosity too.
retailers: at least someone else bought like we did.
shoppers: we just went hunting.
singers: we always thought we were entertaining you.
statesmen: at least a few knew how to let things happen.
supervisors: only a few people had patience with us.
teachers: we finally learned how to sign our names too.
terrorists: we were not afraid to die either.
truckers: when passed on roads, we did more than poot.
ushers: somebody had to put us in the right place too.
wardens: not many were good at being in real foxholes.
whoremongers: we redneck hogs chased pigs till dawn.
whores: at least a few of us knew how to have fun.
zoologists: somebody was willing to take care of us too.

most looked for associates assassins: we thought they died a long time ago too.

bureaucrats: we were not missed when we left either.
counselors: we couldn't be found when needed either.
forgers: as if we had too much money.
librarians: someday, we will be put into the right slot too.
secretaries: glad we didn't have to work on this manual.
strippers: most of us didn't like any of our clothes either.

ALL MISSING PERSONS

We are hopeful that actors, barbers, clerks, dentists, executioners, fishermen, guides, husbands, immigrants, jewelers, kings, locksmiths, maniacs, nudists, onlookers, parachutists, quacks, revenueurs, seamstresses, typists, upholsterers, valets, waifs, xylophonists, youngsters, zealots and everybody's brothers, sisters, aunts, and uncles in the same alphabetical category will be found and might even get what they need too.

Oops! We forgot about bakers, beauticians, buccaneers, cooks, elders, firemen, laborers, pirates, pollsters, publishers, and waiters, but you are important too. See, the list could go on forever, couldn't it?

The more we think about the lists, however, we remember the Scripture in Matthew 20:16; "And so it is that the last shall be first, and the first, last." We do not understand much about that at this point, but we are willing to learn. We are sure however that our play on the words in the lists, which does have an alphabetical order to it, has nothing to do with being first or last. Maybe a clue might be derived from the chart on pages thirty-nine and forty of HIS FATHER'S TEMPLE © 1996, to be published by FULFILLED MANSIONS.

Well, all people not mentioned, please advance to the front of the line, especially architects, engineers and contractors, including all of their usual necessary helpmates. All, that is, except the draftspeople; they have already been mentioned, and everybody has to wait their turn.

Now let there be full understanding of Hebrews 11:8-10; Abraham trusted God, and when God told him to leave home and go far away to another land which he promised to give him, Abraham obeyed. Away he went, not even knowing where he was going.

And even when he reached God's promised land, he lived in tents like a mere visitor, as did Isaac and Jacob, to whom God gave the same promise. Abraham did this because he was confidently waiting for God to bring him to that strong heavenly city whose designer and builder is God.

Wow, isn't that amazing! God's people really are patient aren't they? In the first book, of the Noahhite Manual, we went into detail about believing that the time has come, according to Scriptures which we introduced, for this heavenly city that has been promised for thousands of years, to be made available, and as we speak is on the drawing board, so to speak.

In a later chapter, we reveal a program that we believe can bring this heavenly city to us for all that are desperate enough. Rest assured, you are invited. Again we apologize for not mentioning some, but they probably would not have liked what we had to say anyway, but they are important to our God, none the less, and again, are cordially invited to advance to the front of the line.

In hopes of explaining the various uses of the different type, we now quote from HIS FATHER'S TEMPLE, page v and vi. "Since we are using two other styles of type as relates to quoted Scriptures, let us explain these. When a Scripture is mentioned, by Book, Chapter, and Verse, and the type style changes, the bold type simply shows that it is a biblical quotation.

Also, after a mention of Scripture, by Book, Chapter, and Verse, and the type is a formal script in this Text, the script, or bold italics, simply signifies the words of Jesus, or more accurately, the words of Christ, spoken through Jesus, which are printed in red in some Bibles. Later in the noahhite manual, when we are quoting the sayings of Jesus, using bold script type and the Bible uses italics to emphasize a point, since we are using a form of italics, we will just use bold type, in the quotation, to show importance. Text changes in type, boldness, CAPITAL LETTERS, or underlining suggests significance, and are the Scribe's participation.